

„The Planetary Lines Can Bring Happiness“

Text: Susanne Schulz for the magazine Bella

Astrologer Eugenia Everett calculates personal astrological maps. She feels that through their use one can lead a happier life.

Bella: Ms. Everett, what exactly are astrological maps?

Everett: The planetary lines are based on the angle that the Sun and Moon as well as the planets, make with the birth place at the time of birth. There are then twelve individual 'planetary lines', each with its own unique direction – much like streets in a city map. The lines are shown on a country map, like Germany, or a larger area such as Europe. They can also be printed on a transparency and used in conjunction with a city map or house blueprint.

Do the signs of the Zodiac play a part here?

No, the personal zodiac sign has nothing to do with the Planetary Lines. The calculations are based on the Azimuth system which is also used in navigation.

And is there a special good luck line?

By most people the Sun line stands for good health, optimism and a sense of ease. Usually one has a feeling of power here.

What does it help when you know your Planetary Lines?

One can live a happier, healthier and more fulfilled life. With the transparency, which shows the lines in a 360° circle, one can see where in a city the best places are to live, work, and which places are better to avoid; simply by placing the transparency on the city map.

And then?

One sees through which streets and neighborhoods the individual lines run. When looking for a new apartment one should check which area is influenced by the Sun line, for example. It is also interesting to see which line(s) run through your place of work, where you like to shop, where your best friend lives, etc.

Can you use the lines inside your home?

Absolutely. One puts the transparency over the blueprint of the apartment or house.

It's amazing to see how often that favorite, cozy, place falls on the Moon line. The Moon gives the feeling of comfort and security. One usually finds that the family photos are placed somewhere along the Moon line.

Sounds a little bit like Feng-Shui.

Yes, that's right. The two methods are very similar.

You could say this is an astrological Feng-Shui.

I like to think of the planetary lines and astrology itself, as your own personal instruction manual. This help can be used to better all the areas of one's life.

Even your love-life?

Yes, one should look here at the Mars and Venus lines. They stand for love, sexuality and lust. A vacation to a place where the woman's Moon line is prominent can help to support a wish to become pregnant
